COUNTY TO ERECT T.B. SANITORIUM NEAR COM. HOSPITAL

A new tuberculosis sanitorium for San Mateo county was given the "go" signal by the county board of supervisors. It will be located adjacent to the Community hospital in South San Mateo.

A bond issue for the sanitorium was approved last November by county voters, but much controversy arose as to the location of the structure.

Daly City Band Receives Praise At Sunday Concert

The Daly City Band presented their 20th Anniversary Concert at Jefferson Union High school June 1 to a very enthusiastic audience.

Trixie Beeson presented the band's new majorette, Miss Loraine Matulich, who gave a very fine exhibition of baton twirling. Mayor Melford Battye, in an address, outlined many of the band's activities of the past. Among the most important events were the State Eagles Convention in San Jose, July, 1940, Civilian Defense Patrol drills at Jefferson Union ball park during the war days, dedication of Marchbanks Park, 18 consecutive appearances at the annual East-West Shrine games, three years as official band of the Napa County Fair, annual St. Patrick's Parade in San Francisco and many others.

Special mention should be given to Gonzalo Vialis and Bob Paredi for their fine work in "Two Little Bulfinches" for trumpets, to the wood wind section for their fine performance of Rimski-Korsakov's "Flight of the Bumble Bee," to Tipton Banks for featuring the Cathedral Chimes in "A Monastery Garden," and to Fred De Scala, who played a brilliant cadenza in "The Gypsy Caprice Zingaraska."

At the conclusion of the concert President Trixie Beeson and the band presented Mr. Brenner with a lovely gold baton in appreciation of his 20th year as director of the band which he developed from a small organization to a 45-piece band which ranks with the outstanding concert and parade bands of the Pacific Coast.

The Daly City band has accepted an invitation to appear at the Benica 100 Year Centennial Celebration at Benica Sunday, June 15. The band will also play for the Napa Fair August 23 and 24.

The next concert will be staged at Jefferson Union High school during the coming holiday season.

Lions Club Plans Installation And Ladies Night Party

At the regular luncheon meeting of the Daly City - Colma Lions club held Wednesday at Estrada's Spanish Kitchen plans were augmented for a ladies night and installation dinner to be held at the Club Casino Wednesday night, June 25.

Committees were appointed to handle various phases of the affair and get things in smooth running order for this annual big time. There will be eats galore along with initiation ceremonies for the newly elected officers, followed by one of those good times long to be remembered by all.

The benefit show given by the club at the Daly City theatre for the Sea Scout group showed a very handsome finale. Over $700 was netted by the affair and will be a big boost to the Scouts.

Quite a few of the members were "bad boys" and missed this Wednesday luncheon. Maybe vacation, maybe illness, maybe apathy, maybe just didn't come. Well, anyhow, some of the boys thought it might be just "ducky" to call on Judge Fahey. They called alright and some reported later that it really was "ducky."

OFF THE BLOTTER---

"Ye gods—what a life," declared the boys at the police department. "If it isn't one thing, it's another. How in heck can we keep the old town peaceful anyhow?"

Yes, it was a busy week at the police department, what with family quarrels to settle, prowlers to ferret out, children raising the dickens in general, ambulance calls, false fire alarms and the various and sundry affairs they have to handle.

To top it all off Officer Ed Heim was taken suddenly ill with a stomach complaint on Tuesday. He was attended by Dr. Lynch, then taken in the ambulance by Bertelli and Hansen to Mary's Help hospital.

Several reports were made during the week about children damaging lawns, climbing over fences, etc. Many were apprehended and sternly lectured by the police.

Charles Kiger of the Daly City Auto Wreckers reported Monday that someone had entered the yard at his place of business between noon Sunday and 10 a. m. Monday and had taken two gauges and a regulator from a torch.

Saturday, May 30, fire alarm box No. 612 at San Pedro road and the S. P. tracks was pulled about 12:35 p. m. Co's. 2, 4 and 6, D. C. F. D., responded and put out a fire in a house on the old San Pedro road.

Sunday and Monday brought at least three separate reports of prowlers trying to gain entrance into homes here. Mrs. Vera Perrier, 175 Los Banos avenue, reported a prowler Sunday. Frank Newmann, 6512 Mission street, and the residents at 269 Los Olivos street reported prowlers Monday.

Monday C.H.P. officers brought in Max Walter Brummett, 250 Holloway street, San Francisco, and booked him on violation of Sec. 502, C.V.C. Judge Fahey set bail at $100.

A fire alarm was turned in Tuesday from the box at San Diego and Knowles avenue. It proved to be a false alarm.

A woman rushed into Phil's Grocery at 108 Los Olivos avenue and requested that an ambulance be called. When the ambulance arrived at the given address the party decided that it was not an ambulance case after all and refused to go.

Chief Sunderland came across two very small boys who looked to be twins and seemed utterly lost. He took them into the police car and eventually located their mother.

Youngster Breaks Arm In Jump From Rabbit Pen

Larry Waldon, 6½ years old, of 406 Niantic street, had a painful experience last Sunday. While playing in his back yard he took a notion to try a jump from the top of a rabbit pen. The jump was a success but the landing wasn't quite so successful.

Young Larry was taken to Junipero Serra hospital in a Daly City police car. Dr. Lawler A. Drees found that two bones in the boy's left wrist had been fractured.

After the arm was set Larry was taken to his home and has probably concluded by now that jumping doesn't pay.

Stanley Parmisano Is Valedictorian At St. Mary's

Dr. Goetz A. Briefs, professor of labor economics at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., will deliver the principal address at the 84th commencement exercises on the St. Mary's College campus next Sunday.

The Washington savant will be making his second visit to the Moraga Valley campus, Dr. Briefs having served as visiting lecturer at St. Mary's in the fall of 1944. At that time he also spoke at the University of California and at the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco.

Class valedictorian will be Stanley Parmisano, Daly City, student-body president who won national oratorical honors in New York as a freshman in 1945.

Degrees will be conferred by His Excellency, Archbishop John J. Mitty, D.O.

Honorary degrees of doctor of laws will be conferred on James Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy, in absentia; Bro. Vincentius Leo, F.S.C., professor emeritus of mathematics and engineering, St. Mary's College, and Dr. Briefs.

St. Mary's highest award for scholarship and general excellence, the De LaSalle medal, will be presented to Richard Saveri, 487 Greenwich street, San Francisco, who will receive a bachelor of arts degree, magna cum laude.

Parmisano and James J. Murphy, 116 Santa Rosa avenue, San Francisco, each will receive a bachelor of arts degree, cum laude.

D. C. FIREMEN THANK ALL ---

"Thanks" is a very small word with a very large meaning, especially as it is used in the following message.

The Widows and Orphans Association of the Daly City Fire Department wishes to express its sincere thanks and gratitude for the cooperation and help accorded it by the citizens of Daly City, superintendent and board trustees of the Jefferson Union High school, Daly City merchants, San Francisco merchants, Daly City Theatre, Daly City Record and Radio Station KSMO for making its annual Widows and Orphans ball the great success that it was. Elect Judge Scott Head Of Catholic Social Service

The new board of directors of San Mateo County Catholic Social Service met on May 28 at the Catholic Social Service office, 217 Baldwin avenue, San Mateo, and elected the Honorable Judge Edmund Scott president. Dan Sullivan, assistant district attorney, is the retiring president.

The board also endorsed the establishment of a child guidance clinic, such as is being proposed at this time for San Mateo county. San Mateo County Catholic Social Service is the only private case working agency in the county and provides counsel and service to family and child welfare problems, and is aware of the need for such clinical service.

Old Vista Grande School Site Is Sold For $17,500

Many Daly City old-timers have nostalgic remembrances of the old Vista Grande school which was built on Mission street in 1910 and torn down in 1936. Well, now even the site of the former landmark has been disposed of.

The Grammar School Board of Trustees have sold the site to Edward W. Goldkuhl for the sum of $17,500. Recently advertised for sale by the trustees the site was sold to the highest bidder. An unsuccessful bid of $15,100 was placed by the Sterling Building Co.

Way back in "the days when," around 1869 the site was part of a subdivision called "Ocean View Homestead," the map of which designates Mission street as Mission road and Santa Barbara as Melrose.

Then in 1910 the Vista Grande school was built and stood on the site until 1936 when it was torn down. And many are the present residents of Daly City who attended school in the Vista Grande schoolhouse.

So far it has not been announced just what the Vista Grande site will be used for. However, with the rapid growth of Daly City it shouldn't be long before a new structure or two appear where the old school building stood for so many years.

Cars Collide At Mission St. And San Jose Avenue

Cars belonging to Marshall Lampman, 2352 Bryant street, San Francisco, and Renato Puccini, 1875 Junipero Serra boulevard, collided at San Jose avenue and Mission street about 4:18 p.m. Wednesday.

Lampman's car, a 1935 Dodge sedan, was taken to the Daly City Garage. Puccini was driving a 1938 Chevrolet roadster.

Lampman was jailed by Daly City police on charges of violating sections 155A, 271B and 502, C.V.C. Judge Sweeney set bail at $125 cash or $250 bond.

THREE YEARS SINCE D-DAY

It was one of the greatest news stories of all time. For nearly two years the world had been waiting for it. For four long years the oppressed peoples of the Continent had been praying for it. Some feared it might never come. But come it did.

The day was June 6, 1944. The hour, 3:32 A. M. (Eastern War Time). The first communique about it was simple but it shook the world. It read:

"Under the command of General Eisenhower, Allied naval forces, supported by strong air forces, began landing Allied armies this morning on the northern coast of France."

The message was broadcast on a transatlantic hookup direct from General Eisenhower's headquarters and was read by the announcer in a voice so calm and matter-of-fact that for a moment or two listeners did not realize that history's greatest invasion had begun.

Then the world spread like wildfire and by breakfast time almost every American and hundreds of millions elsewhere had heard it. It moved some individuals to cheers, others to tears, but virtually everyone uttered a silent or audible prayer for the success of the invasion and the protection of the boys in battle.

Thus, on that June morning in 1944 all the power and force, the training and technique, built up over months and years of painstaking and incessent effort, were hurled against Hitler's "impregnable" fortress.

How well our armies were prepared, how bravely the men fought, how ably they were guided by the officers, is all now a matter of history.

If world leaders will fight with determination and sincerity equal to that of the men who crossed the Channel that historic morning they will not fail the hope for a better world that spurred them on to ultimate triumph.

ROAD COMPROMISE FAILURE

The failure of the joint legislative committee on the highway bill to work out a compromise settlement was not surprising. From the very start the assembly and senate have held sharply differing views, not on the need for more and better roads, but on the amount of additional taxes, if any, necessary to finance them.

All along, the effort has been made to make it appear that the assembly was the villian in the matter, and was responsible for the impasse. The lower house has been repeatedly accused of yielding to lobbyists, of being indifferent to the "slaughter on our highways," of advocating more roads without being willing to levy the taxes to finance them, and so on.

It is quite apparent, however, that California citizens have not swallowed these accusations hook, line and sinker. Those especially, who looked into the issue more thoroughly want to know why so much was said about the influence of lobbyists opposing the Collier plan as it was passed by the senate, and so little said about the great number of lobbyists on the other side who were pulling all strings to get the assembly to pass it.

They want to know too, how the assembly can be accused of being indifferent to the "slaughter on our highways" when statistics prove that it is the condition of drivers and their cars instead of the condition of roads that account for nearly all accidents.

And, how come, they ask, that the assembly is charged with failure to provide needed funds when the Collier Committee's own report showed that enough money would be available at current tax rates to keep the road building program moving at full speed for the next four years, at least.

To these citizens there can be no doubt that the assembly acted in accordance with what it felt were the best interest of the people. And for such actions the assembly deserves credit, not condemnation.

SIMPUL SPELING

When George Bernard Shaw recently spoke out for simplified spelling of the English language it was not the first time he had broached the subject. He's been plugging away at it for years. During the war he said that the "b" in "bomb" should be dropped. This change, he pointed out, would make the spelling consistent with the sound of the word and would save 25 per cent of the effort required to write it. Since "boms" were then being dropped by the thousands in newspaper columns as well as on enemy targets, Shaw figured the total conservation of human energy would be astronomical on that one change alone. Well, it looks to us like GBS has something there. We'd lik tu se hiz simplifid speling trid sumtim.

BUDGETS

The recently-approved budget for New York city for the next fiscal year exceeds one billion dollars. Just three decades ago the Federal Budget was a quarter of a billion less than that.

Mary Bergquist And John Hunter Unite In Marriage

Of interest to her many friends in this area is the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Bergquist and John Wyles Hunter jr. at a four o'clock ceremony in the Bethlehem Lutheran church in Santa Rosa on May 17.

The former Miss Bergquist was gowned in a traditional white dress which was fashioned with a taffeta bodice and a heart-shaped neckline. Her veil, which was held by a lacy coronet, was styled with a long train. The bride carried a bouquet of gardenias and lillies of the valley, centered with a white orchid.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Ruth Lloyd of Illinois, who was the new Mrs. Hunter's navy roommate. Her dress was of soft green, and she carried a bouquet of blue delphinium to compliment the blue flower coronet in her hair.

Ted Bergquist, brother of the bride, returned to California from Connecticut to act as best man for his new brother-in-law.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Bergquist of Santa Rosa, received her degree at the University of California. During the war she served as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve. It was during this time that the bride met her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hunter sr. of South Dakota, who was serving as an officer in the Marine Corps.

After a reception held at the church, the bride, attired in a white suit with blue accessories, and the groom left for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination.

The newlyweds will reside in Arwore, South Dakota, where the groom is associated with his father in managing their extensive ranching acreage.

Eunice Delucchi Is Honoree At Surprise Shower

A surprise bridal shower was given in honor of Miss Eunice Delucchi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Delucchi, of Clara street, Colma, on Saturday evening, May 31, at the home of Mrs. Dominic De Mattei and Miss Lorraine Lavagnino.

Eunice is engaged to Gene Capurro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Umberto Capurro, of Mission road, Colma. The wedding bells will ring some time in July.

Eunice was supposed to spend the evening out, when she arrived to find many friends to greet her with a big "Surprise!"

Everything was wonderful including the refreshments and decorations. The De Mattei home was decorated with pink and white streamers and the bouquets for the table were of white and pink stock.

Buffet refreshments consisted of macaroni salad, potato salad, sandwiches, pickles and olives, assorted meats. A large cake decorated with "Good Thoughts, Eunice and Gene" centered the table.

Dancing was enjoyed by everyone. A three-piece orchestra afforded the music.

JEFF HIGH SPORTS - - - -

By Tom Tromborg

Two Decades of Jefferson Athletic History

The history of Jefferson sports, which dates back to 1927, is a history of ups and downs, with a series of championship splurges in the early thirties and forties. Aside from that, however, the record of the fog hill institution has been about average with an occasional step into the first division of the P.A.L., in which a relapse follows and the Jeffs again take their hold in the cellar of obscurity.

I must admit, however, that in due consideration and straight fairness, in accordance with the size of our student body, our record in comparison with other league schools has been extremely commendable.

Before I dwell into the depths of our athletic history, may I first say a few words about traditional characteristics of our athletic teams. For years Jefferson athletic teams were known throughout the bay area as fighting ball clubs, with the ability to give their utmost in the sense of fair play and team competition. The will to win has always been strong in the teams on the field under the colors of the purple and gold. Within the last five or so years this ideal of sportsmanship has partially faltered, but it has been noticed with satisfaction that the future athletes have shown the spirit of old, and it is hoped that again in the not too distant future that Jefferson will hold the highest position in the P.A.L. for sportsmanship.

In reference to football, Jefferson has, shall I say, a great desire to hit the top, but has always lacked that necessity for pennant titles, reserve material. As far as varsity football goes the Jeffs never won a title, but it was in 1927 that our B division team won the limited football title of the P.A.L. It was in this same year that we gained our first victory over South City in a football game. The 1946 varisty squad had the most successful grid season in the school's history when the South coached eleven ended the campaign in second place in league standings, besides producing a most satisfying practice schedule. In 1938 the Jeffs took fourth in the P.A.L., and from what I've been able to find that's all the good seasons there have been at the old school.

Pertaining to the subject of basketball I find that the varsity teams have taken some "pitiful slaughterings," as the term implies, and that no Jefferson varsity team has ever reached the wanted goal of the first division. The best season was in 1940 when the varsity won three league games to take a fifth in the league.

In 1944 the 120 basketball aggregation, under the helm of Elman Rose, won the 120 title from Sequoia in a 2 out of 3 sudden death series, to give Jefferson its first basketball crown! Rose again produced another winner in 1945 when his 130 division team won the P.A.L. title from Lincoln of San Jose. I might add that this thirty team was considered by all followers of the fog hill area as the finest team ever to don the colors of the purple and gold in the game of putting the ball in the hoop.

Records tell us that in 1930 the Jeffs won the 130 basketball title from Sequoia to the tune of 10 to 4, but there has never been any official confirmation of this supposed fact, and so it was not until 1944 that Jefferson was given any official title in basketball.

In baseball the Jeffs have a record that is outstanding, for it is in this sport that the fog hill clubs have proven to be so highly rated. The Jeffs won the title in 1929, 1935, and 1937, with the team of '35 considered the finest the Jeffs ever produced, and one of the best in the history of the P.A.L.!

Looking over the records it has come to light that the specialty has been in producing pitchers and catchers, with the better part of the emphasis on the pitching department. Many commentators have written of the fine baseball teams of Jefferson and there exists no doubt that from Jeff will come many more in the feld of America's leading professional sport.

Swimming is comparatively new here at Jefferson, with actual competition with other schools starting in 1945. Our record then in two years has been fifth in '45, and sixth in '46, with the '45 season the more successful.

In track individuality seems to be the keynote, with the Jeffs producing many singular outstanding athletes but never a uniform team. There have been some lightweight teams with comparatively successful seasons, but not so in the varsity classification.

Golf and soccer are not played any more in league competition here at Jeff but there was a time when the Jeffs won the golf title in the P.A.L., that time being in the spring of 1932.

Individual brilliance by Jefferson athletes has made league records and history and I shall review some of the more outstanding.

There was Jack Faulk, star lineman in the varsity clubs of '37, '38, and '39, who twice made all-P.A.L. and was nominated one of the finest lineman produced by the P.A.L.! Creighton Davis, Jefferson pitcher of 1930 to 1934, who in one season fanned 70 batters for a P.A.L. record that still stands, besides fanning 14 men in a row and striking out 20 to 25 batters to face him!

Petrocchi, another Jefferson pitcher, pitched 50 consecutive scoreless innings to establish a league record that has stood for 18 years!

There are others down the line—Welsh, Parada, Denning, Greenough, Parode — all of basketball, while Picchi, Dawe, Grimes, Selvidge, Rutherford, Compagno are all of football fame. There are many more who have set records in track, swimming and many other sports, minor and major, and all in the sense of good old American competition, with the spotlight on good clean simple fun.

Getting back to facts, that at times are rather dull stuff (as we in high school call it), the Jeffs entered the P.A.L. in 1923, the G.P.A.L. was organized in 1930. Football started in the league in 1923, track in 1930, baseball in 1924, basketball in 1925, and swimming in 1945.

Up until 1930 Jeff was known as the Warriors, but got its name the Indians from the football team of 1930.

Next week this column will tell the story of the outstanding sport incidences in the school's history.

Spring practice continued with more emphasis on blocking and tackling. There was a noticeable improvement in the punting of Mossi, and the running of the backs, but there exists a decided lack of capable linemen.

Morgan, the highly rated Indian center, looks his best, and if performance from last year is used as a barometer he should be the outstanding center of the P.A.L. this year. Bob Lazzerini is developing, as is De Salvatore at end, however, so far there has been no body contact or scrimmage.

Verducci, head Frosh coach, stated, and I quote, "The material for the Frosh seems small, with a great lack of experience showing. I don't expect too much, but then you never can tell!" Verducci is partially right, for this year's team will have a considerable amount of inexperienced players, along with a schedule that calls for the frosh to meet other teams that have lost little if any of their material from last year.

Basketball spring practice is running along smoothly, with the first stringers of old still holding their own, but there are signs that each and every position will be hotly contested for.

Seniors Defeat Faculty

Before a crowd that filled the gym to near capacity, the graduating Seniors defeated the Jefferson faculty. The Seniors lead all the way, except for the first minute when the faculty held a 2 point lead. After that the show went the other way, but never at any time did the Seniors lead by more than 5 points. With five seconds left to play and the faculty trailing by 2 points, South, varsity football and baseball coach, made a basket from 15 feet out, to send the game into overtime. His points were futile, however, as the Seniors went on to win by three points, after being pressed all the way.

D. C. Merchants Take 6-1 Wine In Sunday's Game

Sunday, June 1, was another of those banner days for the Daly City Merchants as they took the long end of a 6-1 decision over the 12-Mile House baseball team in a sizzling game played at Marchbanks Park.

Fred Fazzio, D. C. Merchants pitcher, struck out 10 men and allowed only four hits. He narrowly missed a shutout game as the opponents succeeded in making one tally in the fourth inning.

This Sunday the Merchants play at Palo Alto and as usual expect to "bring home the bacon."

Mathematics Creative Like Fine Arts

Although mathematics is a tool of fundamental importance in the hands of the engineer, the physicist, and the chemist, progress in mathematical research is by no means limited to the finding of new results which are at once applicable to the sciences and engineering.

Research in pure mathematics is motivated largely by intellectual curiosity, and as an activity of the mind it is as freely creative as some of the fine arts.

So says Dr. Angus E. Taylor, associate professor of mathematics on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

"The stimulus for original work in mathematics," he declares, "arises more from curiosity and inventiveness of the imagination than from a desire to solve practical problems. Most of the contemporary research in pure mathematics is not undertaken with a view to its application in any field outside mathematics.

"Even much of applied mathematics, such as theoretical hydrodynamics, elasticity, and so forth, is carried on by men who have no exact knowledge of, or direct interest in, possible engineering applications."

Mah Jong

Original ivory Mah Jong sets contained the names of famous Chinese heroes engraved on their surface. When made available to the western world, these inscriptions were changed to numerals and letters.

"National Be Kind To Taxpayers Week" Gets Under Way Sunday, June 8th

Californians today were urged to take part in "National Be Kind to Taxpayers Week," proclaimed for June 8 to 14 by Andy Anderson, plain American citizen, of Ada, Oklahoma, by A. C. Hardison, of Santa Paula, president of California Taxpayers' association.

"Taxes in California — federal, state, and local — took more than $4 billion out of the people's $14.5 billion income last year," Hardison stated.

"With taxes taking nearly a third of the income of the people, a 'Be Kind to Taxpayers Week' is long past due.

"Government spending during the present, 1946-47, fiscall year is expected to top $50 billions, about one-fifth more than the $41 billions which the people are expected to spend for food.

"Federal, state, and local governments are all hitting peace-time peaks in expenditures.

"How long can the people support these peak government expenditures and continue to maintain the free American way of life?" Hardison asked.

"Congress is acting to reduce federal expenditures and should receive the support of every American citizen," he declared.

"California's all-time high state budget has just been passed by the Legislature and a flood of special appropriation proposals is anticipated, now that the constitutiional bar to their consideration is down.

"Local government boards are considering the budgets for their subdivisions.

"Members of Congress, the state legislators, and local government officials are all representatives of the people.

"Write to your representatives, letting them know you are behind the effort to keep government expenditures down, so that taxes may be reduced," Hardison urged. "Tell them that is the one real way to 'Be Kind to Taxpayers.' Reducing the cost of government is the best way to reduce the cost of living.

"God helps those who help themselves," Hardison declared. "The first amendment to the constitution guarantees free speech. Now is the time for Americans to exercise this right."

Lois Zanetti, 10 Cavour street, Daly City, will graduate from the Dental Nurses Training school of San Francisco, on June 5. She was on the honor roll throughout her course of training.

STATE LEGISLATURE PROVIDES RELIEF FOR DISTRESSED SCHOOL DISTRICTS

John Emerson, publicity chairman of the citizens committee for school bonds, contributed the following article concerning the school housing problem in Daly City.

To meet the problem of school housing in congested districts of low assessed valuation, the State Legislature has established a fund of thirty million dollars. This money is to be allotted to distressed school districts. Exact methods of apportionment have not yet been determined but bills now in committee seek to make this money available in the near future. School districts receiving state aid will not be required to reduce the ce istressed school district" is I mus as one that has exhausted e con l means of financing and is rness, ter still in need of addition- e of o ities. The bonding limit of com mentary school district is an amount equal to 5% of the assessed valuation of the property in the district. The tax limit is set at 90c per hundred dollars of assessed valuation. Financing can come from these two sources. To qualify for State aid Jefferson School District must meet these two qualifications: Tax to limit and borrow to the limit.

We are a distressed district in fact. We cannot borrow enough to meet one-third of our mandatory immediate requirements. We cannot raise more than a "trickle" of building funds from increased taxation. We must, however, authorize our School Board to borrow to the limit (at present about $326,000) before we can obtain State aid. A dollar borrowed now will bring to the district two or more free dollars. The existence of adequate schools will improve the actual value of our property. The proposed school bond issue is, therefor, a good business proposition for property owners. As assessed valuation raises three additions of new construction to the rolls, or three upward adjustment of assessed valuation on existing property the bonding limit will raise. This extra money will come directly out of our pockets. Any saving anticipated through lower construction costs in the future would be more than offset by the loss of state aid to the extent of this increased bonding limit. We are not alone in our distress and unless we move fast the thirty million may be allotted to others before we qualify for our share.

General Pershing P.T.A. Plans For Summer And Fall

On Tuesday, June 3, General Pershing PTA held its last regular monthly meeting of this school year. The meeting was opened at 1:45 p. m. by Mrs. M. E. Nenstiel, president. After community singing of "America," the pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Lyal Ingersoll, and a prayer was read by Mrs. George Freeland.

Plans were made to send a group of blood donors to the San Mateo Blood Bank. It s anticipated that this will be a regular activity.

A social program of dances to be held in the Firehouse at 335 Bellevue was approved. The first scheduled dance is for June 7.

A picnic is to be held on June 24 at San Mateo Park.

Officers and committee chairmen submitted reports. A report was given on the recent 17th District Luncheon and Installation by the Unit's delegate, Mrs. V. M. Faragher.

Mrs. F. W. Bauer, a member of the Citizens Committee gave a report of the recent board meeting concerning the needs of Daly City for new schools and improvement of existing schools.

A Country Fair is planned for the fall. This is expected to be quite a big event, and Mrs. F. W. Bauer urged all members to keep it in mind during the summer, and when canning or sewing to put aside pieces of work to donate to the Fair booths.

On behalf of the Unit Mrs. George Freeland presented to the teachers of General Pershing a service for eight of stainless steel ware for the teachers room. The gift was accepted by Miss Winifred McGrath.

Mrs. Faun Tuska, a guest from 17th District CCPT, was introduced and she urged all members to support the unit and do the jobs they were asked to do.

Mrs. Drew Eason introduced Elman Rose, recreation director, who spoke on plans for the Summer Recreation Program. A 10-week program is planned to begin June 23. The grounds will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily, except Sunday. A wide variety of activities has been planned, and no child should have idle time during the vacation if he takes advantage of the Recreation Program.

A buffet service of cakes and coffee was presided over by Mrs. A. M. Rosenberg.

Mothersingers Of Jeff School Dist. Attend Luncheon

The Mothersingers of the Jefferson School district attended a luncheon and social aft rnoon at the home of Mrs. Eve Hobbs Thursday, May 29. The proceeds of the affair are for the purchase of robes for the Mothersingers. The committee in charge was composed of Mesdames Carol Freeland, Lee Stura and Eve Hobbs. Mrs. Frances Haussler, president of Crocker PTA, reported a very good time, with about 30 present for the luncheon.

The regular meeting of Crocker PTA will be Tuesday, June 10, at 1:30 p. m. at the school.

Old Glory Post And Auxiliary Report Gala Meeting

In a very interesting meeting held by the members of Old Glory Post No. 2044 Veterans of Foreign Wars at Little Italy Hall, many committee reports were received and three new members were given the obligation into the Post.

Those intitiated were Jack Hopkins, Arthur Linhares, who is a member of the local police department and also one of Daly City's star golfers, and another athletic member of the force, Dave Johnson, who is well remembered as a star on local diamonds. Comrade Linhares was immediately appointed as head of the golf committee to promote activity in this line within the Post. Comrade Johnson was also appointed to membership on the baseball committee, as his experience and background will be a definite asset to this group.

Junior Vice-Commander Panella reported that he is receiving marvelous response to the picnic that will be held at Flood Park June 15.

Senior Vice-Commander Viele reported that the Poppy Drive to aid the disabled war veterans went over with a bang and wishes to thank all of the comrades and the members of the Auxilary for their splendid cooperation.

Adjutant Howard McHugh, who is also a councilman of Daly City, reported that the city council has acquired two more parcels of property that are within the boundaries of the Civic Auditorium and Veterans' Memorial Building site.

Officer of the Day Albertus reported that the basketball team has finished its league play and would reorganize within a month or so to enter another local league.

All of the delegates to the State Encampment at Santa Cruz signified their intention to attend the session June 8-11.

On the rifle and pistol team, Comrades Sweeney and Fisher reported that the national team had been contracted and arrangements were in progress to acquire the arms and ammunition and that there would be a future announcement for the turnout of members.

The bowling committee reported that plans were under way to form a Peninsula league for summer play and they would report further at the next meeting on the second Friday in June.

Dr. Olsen's name was drawn but he was not present. The dentist business must have Doc pulling.

After adjournment of the meeting, the ladies auxiliary joined in a social evening and refreshments.

Removes Grease Spots

Grease spots usually can be removed from upholstery by sponging them thoroughly with a cloth saturated with carbon tetrachloride or some other solvent, working from the outer edge toward the center. Have a clean cloth at hand to absorb the soiled cleaning fluid. More than one application may be necessary.

Barracuda And White Sea Bass Taken

Fair catches of barracuda and white sea bass have been checked in by most fishermen fishing in the waters off Orange county, declares the National Automobile Club. Salt water sport fishermen have been having particularly good luck in the Huntington Beach area.

Truckee River Fishing

Truckee River, in Placer and Nevada counties area, is in good condition for trout anglers, reports the National Automobile Club. Low and clear between Lake Tahoe and Truckee, the river should offer anglers fair fly fishing. High and clear between Truckee and the state line, it should offer anglers both fair bait fishing and fair fly fishing.

Veterans and Officers Club Will Move To New Quarters

The Veterans and Officers Club, formerly at the Fairmont Hotel, moves to the Casino Ballroom of the Richelieu Hotel, Geary and Van Ness avenue, on Saturday, June 7, 1947.

Appropriate festivities are planned for the formal opening on that night, with celebrities and prominent civic personalities to launch the new veterans recreation center.

Role Of Alcohol Small In Mental Disease

Alcohol is by no means a major factor in mental disease, says Dr. Karl Bowman, professor of psychiatry in the University of California Medical School and superintendent of the Langley Porter Clinic.

"In our state hospitals less than ten per cent of patients are there because of alcohol mental disorders," Dr. Bowman states. "It can also be shown that in the most common types of mental disorder causing admission to state mental hospitals, the percentage of alcoholism and the number of those who use alcohol at all is, if anything, less than in the population at large.

"The most common disease causing admission to our mental hospitals is schizophrenia or dementia praecox. Careful study shows that there are fewer schizophrenics who use alcohol to excess or use alcohol at all than there is in the population at large.

"We must, therefore, explode the idea held by many that solution of mental disorders is based primarily on solution of the alcohol problem."

Lights Should Be Checked

Headlight adjustments, even in the best of cars, are not permanent, according to the National Automobile Club. On rough pavements, the finest lamps may be thrown out of true. That simply means they must be checked periodically if the owner is interested in having adequate light.

P.G.&E. Announces Personnel Changes

William G. B. Euler, vice president of Pacific Gas and Electric Company in charge of operations, will become vice president and general manager of the company on July 1, according to announcement today of several executive personnel changes by James B. Black, P. G. and E. president.

A. Emory Wishon, whom Euler will succeed in the top managerial post, will become executive vice president. Wishon will assist the president in general supervision of the company and will direct the department of general construction which is now engaged in a $300,000,000 expansion program.

Black also announced the retirement of R. E. Fisher, vice president in charge of public relations and sales, and the elevation of four P. G. and E. executives to vice presidencies. The changes will become effective on July 1, he said, pointing out that the average company service of the men involved is 35 years.

Fisher, having reached retirement age, leaves the company after 36 years of service, 25 as vice president. He has long been a prominent leader in civic affairs in California and the San Francisco Bay region. He currently is serving as chairman of the Bay Area Council and as Northern California chairman of the national Committee on Economic Development.

Norman R. Sutherland, manager of the company's San Francisco division since 1945, has been named to succeed Fisher. A native of San Francisco, he has been with P. G. and E. since 1913 when he was first employed in the San Francisco division office as a clerk.

Dunlap D. Smalley, engineer of electric operation, will succeed Euler as vice president in charge of operation. Smalley, who has been with the company since his graduation from the University of California in 1910, was general superintendent of the San Joaquin and Midland Counties properties of the company prior to his appointment last year as engineer of electric operation.

James S. Moulton, executive engineer, was appointed vice president and executive engineer. He has been with the company since 1921, having joined the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation's engineering staff following his graduation from Yale University in 1920. He later became executive engineer of the Great Western Power Company, then assistant to the vice president and general manager, and last year was made executive engineer.

I. C. Steele, chief engineer, was appointed vice president and chief engineer. A recognized authority on dam construction and hydraulic structures, Steele took his first job with P. G. and E. as a laborer following his graduation from the University of California in 1909.

Euler, a native of San Francisco and a graduate of the University of California, is a veteran in utility service, having joined the engineering staff of the Great Western Power Company in 1910. He was general superintendent of Great Western's operations at the time of its merger with P. G. and E. and shortly thereafter was transferred to P. G. and E.'s headquarters in San Francisco. He became chief engineer in 1940, and vice president in charge of operations on January 1, 1944.

There are two other vice presidents in the P. G. and E. organization, John P. Coghlan and L. Harold Anderson.

Last year, 870 children were killed and 21,660 injured while playing in the street. Keep your child out of the street!

Safety Zone Caution - - -

The presence of a safety zone for pedestrians at street car stops, wide street intersections, or elsewhere does not give the motorist the right to travel past such points at undiminished speeds, cautions the public safety department of the National Automobile Club. The rule that he may pass without coming to a halt—as was the case prior to safety zone use—is modified by the requirement that the car shall proceed only at such speed as permits full control of it by the driver in the face of any exigency that may arise.

Traffic Signs - - -

Good drivers pay heed to all stop signs, traffic lights, and other warning signals, declares the Public Safety Department of National Automobile Club. These signs and signals have been placed by safety engineers to help prevent accidents. If you don't obey them they might not prevent your accident.

Peacetime Navy Has Advantages For Young Men

The peacetime Navy now offers better advantages to young men seeking a trade or a career than ever before in history, Chief Rupert J. Keller, CWT, USN, Recruiter in Charge, of the local Navy Recruiting Station said today. The new training schools, continued the Chief, are giving expert training in more than fifty trades, of which several cannot be completely studied elsewhere. These schools are turning out better men, prepared to make a better grade in the Navy and civilian life afterwards.

The Chief listed only a few of the trades taught in the Navy. Among them were electronics, photography, aviation mechanics, music, aerography, pharmacy and radio techniques. Besides the advantage of such trade training the Chief cited the high pay scales, the better living conditions, including air-conditioned ships, and the colorful life of travel and excitement.

Chief Keller said there are still many vacancies in the Navy and offered to discuss the entire program with interested young men. The local recruiting station is located at 98 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco.

In 1946, 914 Americans were killed and 23,400 injured by automobiles with defective brakes. Check your car and check accidents!

News Column For The Vets

World War II veterans who have returned to homes in farming communities are being aided in their readjustment to civilian life by federal laws, administered by the Veterans Administration, which facilitate their purchase of farm property or further their knowledge of farming through educational programs.

In the Branch 12 area of the Veterans Administration which includes California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii, nearly 3,000 veteran-farmers have taken advantage of benefits provided by federal law.

Under the loan guarantee provisions of the G.I. Bill 794 veterans have secured VA guaranteed loans on farm property or equipment. The loans have a total value of $4,754,178, of which the government has guaranteed $1,896,073.

Veterans enrolled in farm training programs under the G.I. Bill and Vocational Rehabilitation Act total 2,033. There are 1,758 in California, 198 in Arizona, 61 in Nevada and 16 in Hawaii.

Veteran-farmers usually receive training under the G.I. Bill and in some cases are paid subsistence allowances of $65 or $90 a month, depending on whether they have dependents. The veteran-trainee's average monthly income from farm or wages, plus subsistence allowances, must not exceed $175 for a single veteran or $200 for a veteran with dependents.

Disabled veterans receive farm training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, which provides slightly higher subsistence payments.

Under both laws two types of training are given, "institutional-on-farm" training or "on-the-job" training. In the first the veteran takes courses in the agricultural department of a school in his community and does practical farming on his own farm or that of an employer. The "on-the-job" training program calls for instruction of the veteran in certain agricultural subjects in connection with his work on the farm of an employer.

Most veterans are enrolled in the "institutional - on - farm" program which is conducted in conjunction with the Agricultural Training Committee in each community. The committee, made up of the leading farmers and agricultural experts in the community, advise the veteran in his training and farm operations.

Question: At what rate of interest can I borrow on my National Service Life Insurance policy?

Answer: After your converted NSLI policy has been in force by payment of premiums for one year or longer, you can borrow an amount up to 94 per cent of the cash value. The interest charged you on the loan will be four per cent.

Army Offers Opportunity For High School Grads

Not all high school graduates can afford to go to college, but additional education, plus technical training, is available to qualified young men in the United States Army, Lt. Col. Walter F. Joyce of the Army Recruiting Station at 428 Market street, San Francisco, declared here today.

"In these days of international responsibilities," he said, "it is more important than ever before that every young man obtain the best education possible. Though many cannot go to college, they can, in the Army, get real career training.

The Army can give an able high school graduate training that will be useful not only in the Army but also in civil life. Higher education subjects are taught in classes and through correspondence courses, and training is provided in the many lines of scientific and industrial endeavor in which the Army works."

Army technical schools use new training techniques developed during the war which teach students faster, particularly in the engineering, mechanical and electronics

History Of The American Legion

By JOHN DERUNGS

The American Legion and Labor

The American Legion is not opposed to the closed shop as such but it is opposed to any union regulations that impose excessive initiation fees and dues on veterans or infringe upon the returned veteran's right to reemployment, in reviewing the relations between the world's largest veteran's organization and organized labor.

The fundamental policy of The American Legion toward organized labor was laid down by Franklin D'Olier, first national commander of the organization back in 1920. This is still the policy of The American Legion.

D'Olier made the following statement 27 years ago: "The attitude of The American Legion toward organized labor is exactly the same as its attitude toward all groups of American citizens who are interested in a square deal for all, in the maintenance of law and order and the protection of the institutions handed down to us by our forefathers."

No Ax To Grind

The American Legion has no ax to grind in regard to organized labor. Some individuals, however, forget that The American Legion is a patriotic veterans' organization. It is not a business group, or a sectarian group, or a partisan group. Neither is it a labor group. It exists to promote the welfare of country and of veterans. Whenever the interests of nation and of veterans clash with the interests of any selfish minority, whether it be business, political party or labor, The American Legion naturally will champion the cause of America and of its defenders.

This is the reason why The American Legion opposed any and all work stoppages in defense plants in time of war, whether brought about by management or by labor.

In 1944 The American Legion by national convention action set up a national labor relations committee composed of equal representation from both industry and labor, with a neutral chairman. This committee now passes on all American Legion national resolutions dealing with labor relations.

A 100 per cent Americanism is the first requirement of a Legionnaire and to be a good Legionnaire a member must put his Americanism first. The American Legion cannot hope to discharge its sacred patriotic obligations to the uncounted soldier dead who gave their lives for the objectives for which this veterans' organization exists, if a member is a businessman first, or a politician first, or a unionist first, and a Legionnaire second. Legionism means Americanism first. There can be no deviation from that stand.

4,740 children under 15 years old were killed in automobile accidents in America in 1946.

Yes, you can now buy all popular sizes of the tire that outwears prewar tires at actually less than prewar prices! And despite higher manufacturing costs too.

Coral Reefs Like Natural Breakwater

Nature has developed coral reefs at Bikini and other Pacific atolls whose structures resemble a most efficient natural breakwater.

So report Dr. W. H. Munk and Dr. Marston Sargent of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography. These two scientists, aboard the USS Bowditch, Navy hydrographic vessel, investigated waves and currents before the atom bomb tests at Bikini last summer.

The coral reef that protects Bikini lagoon from surf generated by the trade winds, is pockmarked to a depth of 75 feet with grooves, blow holes and tunnels. This labyrinth stops the force of the waves by the "divide and conquer" technique.

"To an observer standing on the platform just inside the surf zone, the breakers appear to come crashing down upon him," the University of California oceanographers declare. "Two seconds later the wave has virtually disappeared, its momentum converted into a noisy surge which rushes up the channels on either side of the platform."

Modern, artificial breakwaters on the south coast of the Mediterranean designed to generate electricity from ocean waves have surge channel construction similar to the natural formations at Bikini.

Overdriving Headlights

"Motorists should never overdrive their headlights at night," declares Bert Stewart jr., director of public safety for the National Automobile Club. "If you drive at such a speed that you cannot come to a full stop within the distance illuminated by your headlights, you are taking one of those chances that all too often end in accidents."

"Forgotten Historian" Of California Named

The "forgotten historian" of California was Thomas C. Lancey, who began a diary 100 years ago as a 23-year-old coxswain aboard the U.S. sloop of war, Dale, and later expanded it into a series of 66 newspaper articles and 25 manuscript volumes.

So writes Dr. Lawrence Clark Powell, of the University of California, in a recent issue of the Pacific Historical Review.

More than a half century ago, the great California historian, H. H. Bancroft, declared of Lancey's work that it was "in many respects the most complete collection extant of data on the conquest of California."

But Lancey was forgotten until the WPA during the 1930's produced a 896-page typescript of his newspaper articles. In 1938, following the acquisition of the Robert E. Cowan collection by the U.C.L.A. Library, other Lancey journals were discovered.

"It would warm the bones of that brave, loyal and modestly ambitious Yankee sailor-chronicler if he could know that the historians of the Pacific Coast had found a place for him in 1947," Dr. Powell declares.

Preventive Medicine Increase Predicted

Doctors of the future will practice more and more preventive medicine, it was predicted today by Dr. Norman B. Nelson.

"For instance, preventive medicine proved itself remarkably in the form of innoculations in World War II," he pointed out. "Innoculations can banish smallpox, typhus, typhoid, yellow fever, tetanus, and other illnesses."

Children can be protected against diphtheria, which was the worst epidemic disease in Europe during the war. By a carefully regulated environment, the heart damage of rheumatic fever can often be avoided.

Mental health of the future will also be a concern of preventive medicine, Dr. Nelson suggested. "We know today that many of the psychiatric disturbances that are filling one half of our hospital beds could have been prevented by wise guidance of parents in the raising of their children. The pediatrician of the future will be as much concerned with the mental health of the child as with its physical health."

In 1946, 1,960 persons were killed and 7,740 injured walking on rural highways. In the country, walk on the left shoulder of the road—and wear white or carry a light at night!

More than 100 visiting faculty members will supplement the regular University of California staff for summer sessions on both the Berkeley and Los Angeles campuses.

Primitive Indian hunters and fishermen went far toward keeping the game population down before the coming of the white man, says a University of California anthropologist.

Long before Susie was born, some sharp-eyed statistician marked her up for dead. He didn't have Susie's address, didn't know her name. To him, she was just a fraction of a decimal—placed in the group of one of the 'so-many-children-must-die-of-diphtheria-in-1946."

But Susie fooled the statistician. With the aid of modern science she is very much alive today. For widespread vaccination of children has stripped diphtheria of much of its dread.

And this is but a single instance. In many other ways our healing arts have struck out at traditional enemies of childhood. The result is that your child today has a substantially greater life-expectancy than you had a generation ago. Do not fail, in the interests of your family, to command the full measure of recent scientific knowledge.
